Call for Proposals

Special Conference Track: Wraparound for a new era

The National Wraparound Implementation Center (NWIC) is sponsoring a special track at the 28th Annual Research and Policy Conference on Child, Adolescent, and Young Adult Behavioral Health, March 22-25 in Tampa, Florida. The track will include pre-conference training opportunities focused on cutting-edge approaches to implementing Wraparound care coordination, and a series of conference sessions featuring the latest in wraparound research, implementation, and practice.

You are invited to submit a proposal for a paper, symposium (group of papers), or topical discussion on topics including, but not limited to, the following themes. For papers and symposia, please be sure your proposal describes the data or other evidence you will include in your presentation.

- State and local financing options
- State and local strategies for implementing high-quality, effective wraparound care coordination and commonly available supports and services
- New tools, assessments, and technologies to support implementation and quality improvement
- Implementation and impact of family and/or youth peer support
- Research on wraparound outcomes and costs
- Research and development on implementation support strategies such as training, coaching, quality assurance, and data-driven decision-making
- Engaging diverse families, children, and youth in wraparound
- Other innovative practices, in areas such as family and youth engagement, plan of care development, teamwork, use of natural and community supports, and connection to evidence based treatments
